NOTICE REGARDING INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY
RELATED TO ASC X9.150 SECURE QR STANDARD

This notice is provided for informational and compliance purposes.

Implementation of the ASC X9.150 Secure QR Transaction Standard may require the use of technology protected under the following issued United States patent:

U.S. Patent No.: 10,152,582 B2

Title: System and Method for Securing, and Providing Secured Access to Encrypted Global Identities Embedded in a QR Code

Issued: December 11, 2018

Patent Owner: Nimbus-T Global Inc.

The patent covers methods for encrypting and embedding a transaction identifier or database file reference within a QR code, including use in secure financial transaction and authentication systems. Certain mechanisms described in ASC X9.148 and ASC X9.150 align with this patented approach.

Nimbus-T Global Inc. has submitted a formal Patent Letter Notice to Accredited Standards Committee X9 and has indicated willingness to make licenses available under reasonable and non-discriminatory (RAND) terms, consistent with ANSI patent policy.

Organizations planning to implement X9.150-compatible encrypted QR transaction systems are encouraged to assess potential licensing requirements and contact Nimbus-T Global Inc. where applicable.

Nimbus-T Global Inc. — Patent Rights Clarification

Nimbus-T Global Inc. is the sole owner of U.S. Patent No. 10,152,582 B2.

Nothing in Nimbus-T’s participation in ASC X9 standards development, nor any Patent Letter Notice or RAND assurance submitted to ASC X9, grants any third party—including Accredited Standards Committee X9—the right to:

- sublicense Nimbus-T Global patents
- resell patent rights
- bundle patent rights with the standard
- collect licensing fees on Nimbus-T’s behalf
- represent Nimbus-T in licensing negotiations

Any such rights would require a separate, express, written agreement executed by Nimbus-T Global Inc.

Absent such an agreement, all licensing discussions and agreements remain directly between Nimbus-T Global Inc. and the implementing organization.
